Schoaf Qualifies for State Geography Bee

Maddox Shoaf from North Asheboro Middle School has qualified to participate in the state level Geography Bee sponsored by National Geographic. He competes in Charlotte on April 6. Mr. Shoaf is pictured in the red hoodie.

School-Level Teachers of the Year

Congratulations to Christopher Golden from Donna Lee Loflin Elementary, Kelly Hagood from South Asheboro Middle, and Erica Rosencrans from our Early Childhood Development Center on being selected as their school's Teacher of the Year! They will compete against other teachers throughout the district, and the Asheboro City Schools Teacher of the Year will be announced at the annual banquet on May 8th!

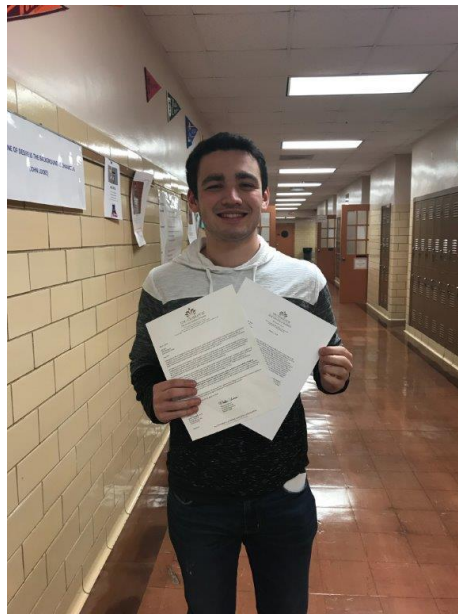

AHS Student Selected for All-State Band

Junior Georgianna Antoniou has been selected by competitive audition for the All-State Band. Ms. Antoniou is pictured second from the right.

Britt and Carroll Earn Scholarships

Ben Carroll has been awarded the Goodnight Scholarship from NC State. Will Britt has been awarded a Levine Scholarship and a Belk Scholarship from UNC-Charlotte. Combined, Britt's scholarships will cover the expenses of his undergrad and graduate degrees at UNC-Charlotte. Pictured is Will Britt.

Lindley Park Hosts Reading Challenge

Students at Lindley Park were encouraged to read during the month of February through the Reading Olympics Challenge. Students were challenged to read 15 books from different categories, complete Accelerated Reader tests, or write a summary of the books. 78 students earned a medal for their reading achievement.

NAMS Students Participate in AHS Curriculum Fair

Several students from North Asheboro Middle School had the opportunity to interactive with students at Asheboro High School at the high school's curriculum fair.

Boys & Girls Club Seeks Volunteers

The Central Asheboro Boys & Girls Club is seeking individuals (teachers, staff, and student groups) to support elementary-aged students with mentoring opportunities and homework help from 4 – 5 p.m. on school days.
