Pearl Alaura Apple

*The Slave, born of water,
taught how to fight.
When Master did not return,
the slave had the longest of nights.
Dreaming of a world, where they were alive together
longer.
The slave, for her master,
yearning to be stronger.
Lied and manipulated, to feel
how she once felt.*

*Hunted down by her
weakness, like hunters
hunting pelts.
The slave stood tall to face her fears, but her fears had never shown.
For the slave, waiting for the master, had rotted to the bone.*

Alaura Apple, Senior, got her inspiration from the TV show called Steven's Universe. Apple based her poem from the character Pearl who was a servant to all four Diamonds, who are like Kings, Once her master died she felt free.

Lady Mustangs come back with a win

Laticia White Woman

Sept. 3 The Lady Mustangs went head to head against the Oelrichs Tigers.

The JV team won in two easy sets. During the Varsity warm up, the Lady Mustangs looked great and ready to dominate their opponents.

Their first set started out a little bumpy. The Lady Tigers managed to keep up with them, but our Mustangs pulled through. As the next sets started the Lady Mustangs were at the top of their game and proved to be too much for the Lady Tigers to handle.

Despite the interruption of a creepy critter (bat) our Mustangs came out with the win!

Before the game, Larae White Crane, Team Setter, says, "We knew what we needed to do, to come out with the win." White Crane was very proud of her team.
