

Who We Are

The ADAMHS Board of Erie County is a volunteer-led organization committed to building a healthier community. We plan, fund, and oversee a network of mental health and addiction services across Erie County, Ohio.

While we don't provide direct care, we collaborate with local providers to ensure access to high-quality support. Our work is powered by federal, state, and local funding, allowing us to respond to evolving community needs with services like school-based counseling, crisis intervention, recovery support, housing, and more.

In addition to these responsibilities, we also serve as the Clients Rights Officer for Erie County, advocating for the rights and dignity of individuals receiving mental health and addiction services. We help ensure that concerns are heard, addressed, and resolved in a fair and respectful manner. Call (419) 627-1908
