

Flexible Instructional Day (FID) Expectations

Flexible Instruction Days do count as a day of school and the student is responsible for attending and completing any assignments or review packets. A few points to consider:

1. The use of synchronous and/or asynchronous learning may occur.
2. Individual staff members will make decisions regarding the type of instruction that will occur on a FID.
3. Students should log in to their Seesaw/Schoology accounts for information shared by their teachers.
4. If a student does not have access to the internet, paper copies of assignments will be provided.

Expectations for Students:

Students will complete instruction and assignments posted by their teacher(s) in Seesaw (K-2) or Schoology (Grades 3-12) for the flexible instruction day. Students will need to complete and submit assignments within two school days following the day of the flexible instruction day. Assignments not completed during the flexible instruction day window may be counted against a student's grade.

Students will be responsible for assignments in the following content areas during a flexible instruction day:

- K-3: English Language Arts (ELA) and Math
- Grades 4 & 5: English Language Arts (ELA), Math, and Science or Social Studies
- Grades 6-12: All Content Areas (Assignments will be given for all classes on regularly assigned schedule)

Students and families may contact their teachers for assistance on given assignments during the flexible instruction day through email, the school info app, or the messaging systems within Seesaw or Schoology.

Attendance:

Attendance will be accounted for a flexible instruction day upon completion of assignments. Students will have two school days after the flexible instruction day to submit assignments. This additional time period allows students who may not have internet access, electricity (weather related incident), or who may have been ill to complete assignments given for the flexible instruction day. Teachers will submit attendance to the building attendance secretary based on completion of assignments. Attendance will be submitted no later than five school days after the flexible instruction day takes place.

Assignments not completed during the flexible instruction day period may be counted against a student's grade.
