Little Wound School Fourth Quarter Learning Plan

Dear Little Wound School Community,

This letter contains updates about Little Wound School's plans for the fourth quarter, which begins on Monday, March 21, 2022. Little Wound will resume on-campus, in-person instruction for all vaccinated students and students with approved vaccination waivers for medical or religious reasons on that date. This learning plan follows Little Wound's COVID-19 response plan and aligns with tribal policies about vaccination. Please review the information below to help you prepare for this return to campus.

School Days and Hours

Monday through Thursday: 8:30 a.m. through 3:30 p.m.

Friday: 8:30 a.m. through 1:00 p.m.

Transportation

Little Wound's bus schedule will return to pre-pandemic operations and timing. Separate bus runs for different student groups will stop. If you have questions about student transportation, please contact Bill Clifford at 605-455-6180.

Online Instruction

Unvaccinated students without an approved exemption will continue accessing their course content online for the duration of this school year. Middle and high school students will have uninterrupted access to their classes on Odysseyware. The elementary school will communicate classroom-specific information about remote learning to the parents and families of students in the coming days. Little Wound continues offering a vaccination incentive to students.

Health and Safety Precautions

Little Wound School is committed to the wellbeing of its community. The school will continue implementing its safety precautions including enhanced cleaning, proper masking, and regular testing of students. This return to on campus instruction follows tribal and federal best-practices for health. If you have questions about the school's response to COVID-19, please contact the school's nurse, Lindsee Harris (lindsee@littlewound.us or 605-455-6213).

Sincerely,
