Highly Qualified Teaching Staff

- You have the right to know the professional qualifications of the classroom teachers who instruct your child. Federal law allows you to ask for certain information about your child's classroom teachers, and requires us to respond to with the requested information in a timely manner.
- To be highly qualified, teachers must be licensed by the state, fully certified, and able to demonstrate competence in the subjects they teach.

Parents have a right to know...

Our district and school helps parents stay informed about the qualifications of the school staff by:

- Notifying parents, at the beginning of the school year, of their rights to request information regarding the professional qualifications of the student's classroom teachers
- Providing, upon request by a parent, timely information regarding the professional qualifications of their child's classroom teacher(s)
- Providing, to the parent of a child who is provided services by a paraprofessional, information about the qualifications of the paraprofessional and
- Ensuring that each participating school provides timely notice to the parent(s) if a student has been taught four or more consecutive weeks by a teacher who does not meet applicable state certification or licensure requirements at the grade level and subject area in which the teacher has been assigned.

Family and Community Engagement
