Announcement to Edison High School Students and Families

Dear EHS Families:

The worldwide outbreak of Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) has sparked concerns for the health and safety of individuals throughout our country. The Edison Local School District shares those concerns and is working to preserve the health and well-being of every student and staff member. Additionally, as has always been our academic tradition, we will continue to prioritize the education of our students during this unprecedented time.

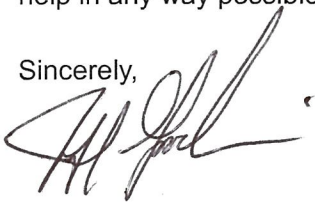

To make the transition to online education a little easier on everyone involved, our staff has put together the following resources to summarize the educational plan for each teacher. It is our hope that families can review the resources from each teacher and together make a plan for the upcoming weeks. Although the educational experience will look different than our face-to-face instruction, our teachers are dedicated to providing you with the best experience possible at this time and to keep moving forward in academic progress.

We are going to rely heavily on our families at this time and need you to prioritize education. Please check in with your teens to ensure work is being completed. However, you are not in this alone. We will be here to support and supplement learning through remote measures. We will be here to assist with content questions, technology challenges, and to promote continued learning.

Additionally, we will continue to communicate with families throughout this time via one-call phone messages, social media posts, and mail as necessary to keep everyone on the same page.

Know that the entire Edison staff will be thinking about you during this time and will be available to help in any way possible. Coming together (even remotely) is what will get us all through this.

Sincerely,

Jeff Goodwin

Edison High School Principal

EHS Students:

We wanted to send out a letter and let you know that we are thinking about all of you. All of this uncertainty and disappointment is not what any of us had planned for the year. During this time, we are sure you are feeling a range of emotions that overwhelm your ability to process what is happening. We know that you are mourning the missed activities, interactions with friends, sports seasons, performances....everything right now. Those things that are so important to you. So many things that are outside of your control.

But, have you thought about what is in your control?

You CAN control your response to the situation.

You CAN choose to find something positive in each day.

You CAN lift up others on social media.

You CAN check-in on your friends - maybe even call them on the phone.

You CAN get outside and enjoy the fresh air.

You CAN read a book (or listen to one).

You CAN organize your room.

You CAN write a letter to nursing home residents.

You CAN reach out to a trusted adult in your life to talk.

You CAN be disappointed, frustrated, mad - and then you can choose grace, gratitude, optimism

You CAN limit your social media time.

You CAN be physically active.

You CAN help your parents (who are also stressed btw) around the house.

You CAN play board games.

You CAN reconnect now that your schedules are free.

You CAN take your academics seriously - and take charge of your education.

You CAN check on your neighbors.

You CAN run errands for those at most risk.

You CAN start a positive social media movement - #ChargersBetheGood

You CAN find joy in the little things.

You CAN practice self-care.

You CAN get through this.

Know that the entire Edison staff will be thinking about you during this time and will be available to help in any way possible. Coming together (even remotely) is what will get us all through this.

Just remember - IT'S (still) GREAT TO BE AN EDISON CHARGER!
