Balfour Elementary School Parent & Family Engagement Plan

- Parents are a part of the School Improvement Team, which develops and monitors the parent and family engagement plan three times per year.
- NC Star information will be provided to parents at the beginning of the school year with directions for how to access the school improvement plan, school improvement team meeting minutes, and parent and family engagement plan.
- Any parent can attend School Improvement Team meetings; the dates are posted on the Balfour Elementary website, as well as in the front office of the school, and announced on Class Dojo. Furthermore, a copy of the Continuous Improvement Plan will be available for review through the NC Star website.
- Parents are invited to the annual Title I Parent meeting. We plan this meeting in conjunction with our first Academic Family Teacher Team (AFTT) meeting so that parents have the opportunity to attend in conjunction with another event.
- During our annual Title I Parent meeting, parents are given information about the North Carolina Standard Course of Study, academic assessments, and the achievement levels required for student proficiency. This meeting is planned in conjunction with our first Academic Family Teacher Team (AFTT) meetings. During the AFTT portion of the parent night, parents are given specific information about their child's proficiency and taught specific ways to help their child reach and surpass grade-level proficiency standards.
- Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) meetings are held quarterly and in conjunction with the school's Academic Family Teacher Team (AFTT) meetings.
- Parents will receive individual student reports following benchmark assessments. Parents will receive reports for each of the following state and local assessments:
 - I-Ready (K-5 Literacy and Math)
 - North Carolina End of Grade Assessments
 - English Language Arts (3rd, 4th, 5th Grades)
 - Math (3rd, 4th, 5th Grades)
 - Science (5th Grade)
- Parents will be sent a letter notifying them of the qualifications or their child's teacher if the teacher is not highly qualified. The assignment of teachers who are not highly qualified is not a normal practice and usually occurs only when substitutes are needed due to an emergency medical situation.
- Three times per year, our school holds Academic Family Teacher Team (AFTT) meetings. During these meetings, parents are given specific information about their child's proficiency and taught specific ways to help their child reach and surpass grade-level proficiency standards as well as data specific to their child. For example, parents receive materials and tips to help them learn their letters, sounds and sight words, practice reading fluency and prosody, identify Greek and Latin roots and work to maintain comprehension while reading longer texts. Parents are encouraged to set goals alongside their child's teacher and/or their child to ensure academic growth is achieved.

- Parents are taught about curriculum and academic content standards, student academic achievement, as well as state and local assessment such as i-Ready, End of Grade, North Carolina Check-Ins.
- Parents are also informed of appropriate methods to monitor their child's progress and how to access educators through the following activities:
 - Annual Title I meeting (held in September)
 - Academic Family Teacher Team Meetings (3 times per year)
 - English Language Learner (ELL) Parent Meetings (topics pertain to ELL students/families)
 - Sharing of parent resources on the Asheboro City Schools' website:
<https://www.asheboro.k12.nc.us/HomeworkResources.aspx>
 - Parents have access to teachers through our voice mail system as well as Class Dojo--a free app parents can use to connect to their child's classroom and teacher.
- Every year, parents of rising kindergarten students are invited to kindergarten registration. During this time, parents can meet kindergarten teachers, the administration, nurse, counselor as well as other staff that will be a part of their child's next year of education. Furthermore, parents sign-up for a time to bring their child to school during the school day for a kindergarten orientation. During this time, students work with our kindergarten teachers in developmentally appropriate stations. While students play and "work," notes are made regarding specific student strengths and any areas of concern. This information is shared positively with parents. Parents are also given activities to take home to ensure their child's readiness for kindergarten.
- Our parents of rising kindergarteners who have been identified as students with disabilities also meet with an IEP team consisting of both preschool and kindergarten staff on this day. The students' current special education teacher shares information with their future school to ensure a smooth transition from preschool to kindergarten.
- Parents who do not speak English are offered English as a Second Language classes on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at McCrary Elementary School. The class is a satellite site of Randolph Community College. Furthermore, almost all communication from the school is shared in both English and Spanish.
- We work with our part-time interpreter to ensure materials and messages are translated and shared in both English and Spanish.
- Each week a Connect Ed message and parent email is sent to subscribing families with information about upcoming events and special announcements.
