

2022 GRIEF CONFERENCE

Understanding, Hope, and Healing

When someone in your life has died, you are faced with the difficult, but important, need to mourn. A loss due to overdose, other addiction related causes, and suicide have an added layer of grief complexity.

The Hope Spot is bringing Dr. Alan Wolfelt, one of the world's most renowned and respected grief educators/counselors, to Dayton to help individuals, families, and the professionals serving them find hope, healing, and understanding of their complicated grief.

WHEN GRIEF IS COMPLICATED Professional Seminar: 6 CEU's!

Wednesday, April 27th, 8:00am - 4:00pm
Sinclair Community College
444 W. Third St. Building 12, Dayton, OH 45402

This advanced-level workshop is intended to help Chemical Dependency, Social Work, Counseling, & other caregiving professions explore the topic of "complicated" grief. It is not uncommon for caregiving professionals to experience unexpected losses within the communities they serve. Our hope is that participants of this seminar will gain understanding that benefits them in their professional and personal journeys. Six (6) CEUs will be provided for licensed professionals by TCN Behavioral Health.

- Introduction: The Wilderness of Complicated Grief
- Complicated grief influences and risk factors
- Identifying complicated grief: symptoms and sub-categories
- Special considerations around trauma, overdose and suicide deaths
